Asunto: NENT-D-18-00354 - Our decision on your submission to Neotropical Entomology

Dear Dr. Ibañez-Bernal,

We regret to inform you that Neotropical Entomology is unable to accept your manuscript for publication. All available review comments are listed below this email.

Although your manuscript was not suitable for Neotropical Entomology, one of Springer Nature's Submission Editors would like to help you find a suitable journal from Springer Nature's portfolio of over 2,500 journals.

NEXT STEPS

The Submission Editor will be in touch shortly to help you find the most relevant journal for your manuscript.

Once again, thank you for your interest in Neotropical Entomology.

With kind regards,

Eliana M. G. Fontes, Ph.D
Editor in Chief
Neotropical Entomology

Editors'/Reviewers' comments (if any):

Your work has scientific merit. Nevertheless, I regret to inform that it does not reach the level of priority to enter the review process when compared to the other manuscripts that are currently being evaluated for publication in NENT. Although the work was well conducted and you have accumulated a good data set, we do not publish species lists. I suggest you accept the support of the manuscript transfer desk offered by Springer to find a more appropriate Journal for your manuscript.

I hope this does not discourage you from choosing the Neotropical Entomology for your future publications, thank you for considering our Journal this time.
